The following are the risks envisaged by the management of our Company which relate to our Company, the ZCZP Instruments. Potential investors should carefully consider all the risk factors stated in this Draft Prospectus in relation to the ZCZP Instruments for evaluating our Company and the ZCZP Instruments before making any investment decision. Our Company believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the ZCZP Instruments, but such risks are not exhaustive. Potential investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Draft Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors, our Company is not in a position to quantify the financial or other implications of any risk mentioned herein below.

Internal Risk Factors

As a non-profit organization, a reduction or discontinuation in the donations or grants we receive may have an adverse impact on the operations of our Company.

We are a non-profit organization registered under Section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013. Accordingly, the operations of our Company are highly dependent on the receipt of donations and grants. The donations and grants received by our Company for the Financial Years ended March 31, 2023, 2022 and 2021 were ₹ 7389.39 lakhs, ₹ 6662.31 lakhs and ₹ 8953.98 lakhs, respectively. In the event that donations and grants we receive reduce or are discontinued including on account of such donations and grants being focused on projects of other companies, it may have an impact on the business, operations and financial condition of our Company.

Changes in the financial position of our donors could result in a reduction or discontinuation of donations and grants received by our Company.

Our income is dependent on donations and grants being made to our Company. By their nature donations and grants are discretionary in nature and in the event of a deterioration in the financial position of our donors, the donations and grants we receive may reduce or may not continue at all. As a consequence, our Company's financial position and operations may be adversely impacted.

Changes in applicable law governing corporate social responsibility policies could have an adverse impact on our operations.

In terms of the Companies Act, 2013, companies which meet specific criteria are required to spend a portion of their profits towards activities which relate to their corporate social responsibility policies. Donations and grants made to our Company typically are made by companies as part of such policies. In the event of any change which reduces the amount required by companies to be spent on activities which relate to corporate social responsibility, the donations made to our Company may reduce, which in turn could have an adverse impact on our Company's operations.

Failure to retain and attract professionals could have an impact on our operations.

Under the programmes of our Company, we engage professionals who work with us and assist us with training, a significant portion of whom work with us on a pro bono basis or for nominal remuneration. This could lead to some delays in hiring and execution. We have kept additional time to complete the programme and we should be able to manage.

We are exposed to various operational risks including the risk of fraud and other misconduct by employees or outsiders.

(hereinafter referred to as "Objects")

The main objects clause of the Memorandum of Association of our Company permits our Company to undertake its existing activities as well as the activities for which the funds are being raised through the Issue.

Purpose for which there is a requirement of funds, project details and target segment:

In India, unemployed youth vastly outnumber those of any other country. We currently have the largest ever youth population in our history - 20% (366 million) of the world's youth live in India. Around, two-third of our population are under 35 and only 2% of the workforce is formally skilled. Even though the enrolment of youth in formal education has increased, there has been a significant increase in unemployment rates for the youth segment. For young people in rural districts, the unemployment situation is further aggravated in terms of labor force participation as well as lack of jobs. A secondary analysis done by TRIF found that approximately 3 lakh youth (~65%) in each of these districts are Not in Education, Employment and Training (NEET) or are underemployed.

The root causes of youth unemployment are complex and multi-dimensional. While there are many impressive programmatic innovations underway, most interventions remain overwhelmingly sub-scale, and are unable to expand quickly enough to support the rapidly growing cohort of working-age youth in need of jobs and income. There is a need for a holistic approach to create lasting employment opportunities for youth at the scale required. The program will onboard 12-15 Sarathis to work across all project villages in selected districts. Each Sarathi will reach out to approximately 600-700 youth across census town and facilitate transformational outcomes for ~300-400 youth.

TRI's solution is to unlock emerging economic opportunities in these districts leveraging the power of aspirational young people and penetration of digital technologies in rural areas. The scale and complexity of the challenge requires a comprehensive place-based economic opportunities model riding on socio-economic transition on demand side and building on the existing public, private and community investments. This can be achieved by

(i) Coordinating and supplementing the entrepreneurship and employability ecosystem at the district level

(ii) Developing district-specific high-potential livelihood pathways for local youth

(iii) Setting up phygital youth hubs (MERA Bharat Hubs) for servicing the young people in these districts and access entrepreneurship and employment opportunities

The component intervention has been validated by TRI and will be delivered through the MERA Bharat Hubs in selected districts. In order for communities to explore various entrepreneurship opportunities and access business development services, there is a need for comprehensive human-tech solutions. The hubs create digitally enabled physical hubs along with a cadre of community counsellors to help people in these peri-urban areas access opportunities. The hubs are tech-enabled resource centres, which will act as "One Stop Shop" for the people to access variety of services (ideation, training, business plan, Finance, Mentoring) at a single place. These hubs will aggregate existing solutions around entrepreneurship and skilling needs for the local youth. Community counsellors associated with the hubs work with rural youth and their families in facilitating access to digital opportunities.

Project outcomes:

- 10,000 youth per selected district reached in total through mobilization efforts on the ground
- 8,000 youth per selected district (80%) receive counselling and mentoring services

- 6,000 youth per selected district are enrolled into foundational courses on life skills, personality development, etc through the hubs

- 3,500 youth per selected district are connected to skilling/vocational programs within and outside the district - estimated as per survey of youth interested for skilling in the Pratham study and availability of vocational programs typically within a district over a period of 3 years

- 3,000 youth per selected district receive local entrepreneurship & self-employment / local employment supports

- 2500 youth per selected district start / grow a business / are locally employed

Transforming Rural India Foundation has demonstrated expertise of supporting youth in employment and economic development interventions. It has formal arrangements on supporting Producer Enterprises around commodity value chains and is supporting Ministry of Rural Development in implementing the 2.5 Crore Lakhpati Mahila Programme. We have formal arrangements with public programmes and leadership in Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Chhattisgarh, Maharashtra to implement for comprehensive livelihoods. TRI has embedded cells within the district administration for convergence of different programmatic resources (RSETI, MUDRA, PMEGP, SFURTI, etc) to bring substantive change in the districts. The proposed effort builds on this close partnership with the government and district comprehensive model implemented in two districts. TRI has formal partnerships forged with global initiatives like Global Opportunity Youth Network (https://goyn.org/) and Work for Progress (https://work4progress.fundacionlacaixa.org/) to bring in the global best practices. Other philanthropies both Global and National such as Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, The Aspen Institute, Interglobe Foundation, Azim Premji Foundation, etc. have supported our cause and helped us in advancing our work on rural empowerment.

The project timeline will be 3 years. The tracking of the youth business/employment will be showcased at the end of 3 years.

It envisages a situation in the village where every youth has skills and the information to make an informed choice.

for a lifelong fulfilling productive engagement."

TRIF is deeply focused on critical challenges/issues of the marginalized communities and in particular of women in the bottom 100,000 villages of India ("stranded India"). The value TRIF bring is its deep knowledge and an inventory of working "solutions" for "stranded" India and mechanism for scaling-up those "solutions". Another differentiator is our focus on the rural urban continuum for these poor families in context of continuing migration in search of better opportunities. Practices at TRIF which enable our change efforts:

- 1. Developing local contextual solutions for Village Transformation from TRI's Community Action Labs practice
- 2. Public-System engagement for scale-up of solutions through our Public Policy in Action practice
- 3. Developing market solutions for stranded India,

Our programs and their target segment

Thematic areas focused to solve the Multi-dimensional challenge of poverty:

At the intersections of themes lies the space to seed transformation that triggers ripple-effect on other dimensions, leading to a better quality of life in the villages. The primary themes of engagement are – Education, Youth Employability and Entrepreneurship, Health & Nutrition, and Farm Prosperity with Gender and Governance being cross cutting themes of focus.

Key Initiatives:

- Building Place-based Economic Opportunities leading to Youth Employability and Entrepreneurship
- Strategy development and demonstrative implementation of Universalization of Women Livelihoods
- Technical assistance and designing scale solutions through central and state government partners.
- Expanding Women's Economic Empowerment through Systems change and demonstrative impact.
- Strengthening Community health services demand and Public Health Infrastructure and Services in Rural Areas
- Strengthening local governance to drive active citizenry and create institutions of local self-governance.

The Approach

The immediate outcomes can be attained through a Whole of Society Approach (Bazaar, Samaaj, Sarkaar) with the synergy of the community, public and market interventions. Community Action Labs are places for active experimentation and prototyping drawing support of Nudge Units, placed in Districts, State, National Government is central to developing meaningful scalable prototypes.

Public system delivery is backed by our experience in the power of engaged and responsive government to address problems of poor, co-creating with counterparts to surface and drive their own solutions and supporting pathways through innovations in processes, leveraging data sciences, mandate sharpening, strategy and implementation methodologies, bringing best practices, evidence-based practices, internal feedback loops and evaluations.

The third peg is catalyzing market based eco-systems where required and feasible, and incubating and accelerating entrepreneurial start-ups – these could take various forms e.g., budget schools/hospitals, contract farming, youth focused interventions linking with local enterprise development, connecting local informal sector jobs.

TRI-focal engagement addresses the need for scalable solutions and models, recognizing the instrumental role of the state for scaling, while also leveraging market dynamics. The TRI's work focuses on active experimentation, implementing ideas on the ground to crystallize models and processes through learning by doing, followed by large-scale adoption. Evidence-based policymaking is crucial, with the absorption and scaling of models done in collaboration with the state apparatus. The program provides support throughout the lifecycle, understanding the functioning of the state and incorporating concepts, design, rollout, monitoring, and evidence-based adaptive management cycles.

Our Solution

Have "community action labs" on the ground working closely with community institutions, local constitutional bodies, public systems, and interested market players. Enabling ecosystem through embedding Nudge-Units to integrate "solutions" within the architecture of the large government programs. Augments the capacity gaps by developing capacities of existing staff and enhancing efficiency and effectiveness of implementation by deploying competent human resources with "Short Tenure Public Service" (Fellowship) engagement for young professionals. Adding a new unit on "evidence generation" for policy impacting. Bending markets for flourishing localities is the practice for bringing markets to rural spaces.

The solution towards youth employability and entrepreneurship is to unlock emerging economic opportunities in these districts leveraging the power of aspirational young people and penetration of digital technologies in rural areas. The scale and complexity of the challenge requires a comprehensive place-based economic opportunities model riding on socio-economic transition on demand side and building on the existing public, private and community investments. This can be achieved by

(i) Coordinating and supplementing the entrepreneurship and employability ecosystem at the district level

(ii) Developing district-specific high-potential livelihood pathways for local youth

(iii) Setting up phygital youth hubs (MERA Bharat Hubs) for servicing the young people in these districts and access entrepreneurship and employment opportunities

The intervention will be an integrated and comprehensive pathway that builds agency in youth creates safety nets, and brings new commerce/market linkages thereby creating local opportunities, bridging youth aspirations and generating economic growth.

Target segment

TRI focuses on the bottom 1,00,000 villages caught in the poverty trap. They are severed from the pathways that lead to better opportunities and ways to build their capacities. Too often, they lack the means to lift themselves out of poverty and do not believe they can aspire to a better life. To reach these villages, we use National Rural Livelihoods Mission (NRLM) architecture of women collectives, Cluster Level Federations, Village Organization and self-help groups. The initiatives towards Education, Health & Nutrition, Farm Prosperity with Gender and Governance focused across themes are anchored by these women collectives.

Our target segment for Youth Employability and Entrepreneurship is individuals aged 18 to 25 years, who belong to the economically weaker sections of society. Emphasizing idiv, Maximum number of unemployed youths are in the category of 18-25 years where most of the respondents stated reason of – "not having access to formal jobs and lack of skill training opportunities" were major hindrance for them to engage in livelihood activities. The district having a predominantly rural landscape, characterized by limited industrial development and a reliance on traditional agricultural practices; with low green cover, drought prone and the lack of diverse employment prospects has resulted in a significant youth population being unable to leverage their skills and talents effectively, leading to high rates of unemployment.

Building on the Transforming Rural India, Foundation's work around the principle "to empower lives and broadens people's scope for economic opportunities through community-based approaches", the proposal outlines a comprehensive plan that includes the establishment of District level ecosystem and physical centers for young people to access entrepreneurship support programs, vocational skilling programmes through strategic partnerships with local industries, govt and private aided training programs. Additionally, it emphasizes the importance of tailored mentoring and guidance programs to enable young individuals to make informed career choices and explore sustainable livelihood options.

The outcome

The effectiveness of our approach has been validated by independent assessments. As we grow, we will continue to gather more evidence of its success. The progress made in the first set of pilots from 2016-2020 validates this premise. Independent assessment shows substantive gains in the adoption of IYCF practices, food diversity, use of toilets, access to health and nutrition services, and improvement in learning outcomes. Productivity and income gains reveal an encouraging shift in the proportion of households in the bottom quintile and top quintile. Independent assessment show gains on adoption of IYCF practices - 3 ANC visits and breastfeeding for 6 months, food diversity, use of toilets; access to health & nutrition services, marked increase in student attendance, increased teacher's presence in schools, improvements on retention and transition; Productivity and income gains 37% increase in HHs with gross annual income greater than INR 1,00,000.

During the year 2022-23, the youth employability efforts have been able to reach 14,285 youth for developing their non-farm/enterprise/job related livelihoods.

Risk:

Changing Political Landscape: With the changing political landscape in the country, there could be decrease in interest of the national and state government in integrating additionally agenda through NRLM/SRLM which may reduce the overall support for this idea. To mitigate this, advocacy with relevant departments and sharing promising results on a regular basis will be undertaken regularly.

Linkage with Line-Ministry: One of the critical challenges for this project will be to establish linkages with all the state level departments and central ministries. As a part of the mitigation efforts the TA leadership will use this existing space in policy space to bring this alignment. Also the TA will use it existing relationship with the key line ministries to drive the alignment of efforts.

Impact Scorecard

At TRIF, we have an organizational management information system, where we capture meta data of all our practices. Key indicators we capture for the youth employability and entrepreneurship are:

- No. of Villages outreached with Employability & Entrepreneurship interventions
- No. of villages where VO taking lead in linking their women & youth with E&E pathways
- Hub established at cluster/block/district level.
- Total no. of youth linked to entrepreneurship.
- No. of female youth linked to entrepreneurship.

For further details in relation to the number of jobs secured by the youth trained under our programme, please refer to the section titled "Our Business" on page 20 of this Draft Prospectus.

Key challenges

We believe that our skill development and vocational training courses have helped our target segment become employable, benefit from opportunities and attain financial independence. However, there are also numerous challenges that our target segment routinely faces while undertaking our programmes due to several socio-economic and geographic factors. A significant part of our primary target segment have grown up in disadvantaged circumstances, are based in rural areas of the country, and thus frequently come from marginalized backgrounds. The key challenges we face are as follows:

For details in relation to achievements, please refer to the section titled "History and Main Objects - Major events and Milestones" on page 24 of this Draft Prospectus

Feedback mechanism:

Youth hubs periodically take feedback from youths about their services and infrastructure. Based upon the feedback received, youth hubs work on their infrastructure, and services to match them with youths' convenience and requirements. Feedback is collected through Google Forms. There are 7 indicators both qualitative and quantitative for feedback. These indicators include.

- Overall Satisfaction with hub staff (their behavior and cooperation)
- Overall Satisfaction with hub location
- The most you like about the youth hub.
- How satisfied are you with hub services and their delivery.

- Any feedback for hub services, like what to add or remove?
- How did you know about the youth hub?
- Was it helpful for your query or career plan?

Our Strategy

Youth will be connected to the various components of the Entrepreneurship Ecosystem via community mobilisers called Sarathis. Sarathis will be an extension of the MERA Bharat Hubs and work at a field level and support entrepreneurs and aspiring entrepreneurs through their entrepreneurship journeys. They will provide counselling at a family level, as well as provide technical guidance on various aspects of running a successful business including idea discovery, business planning, set-up, regulatory compliances, etc. They will build capacity of youth on an ongoing basis through interaction on a weekly basis, and will also facilitate linkages with local service providers including for capital, as well as with government schemes.

The program will onboard 12-15 Sarathis to work across all project villages in selected districts. Each Sarathi will reach out to approximately 600-700 youth across census town and facilitate transformational outcomes for ~300-400 youth.

TRI will facilitate the onboarding of these Sarathis and help build capacity of the Sarathis facilitating youth interaction and provide access to tech platforms for program delivery and management.

Rural youth entrepreneurs face serious challenges in accessing capital to start or grow their enterprises; key challenges include very small ticket sizes (too small for banks and sometimes even microfinance organizations), lack of collateral, lack of registration/cannot fulfil know your customer requirements, no borrowing history and an aversion to take on debt.

The TRI team will engage with other partners that are providing different types of financing and supports, specifically:

- Leverage funds from government programs and schemes such as PMEGP, MUDRA, etc
- Impact investing support for returnable capital/very low % debt financing support from impact investors that can contribute working capital.
- Aligned microfinance organizations and banks that that are keen to provide basic debt financing alongside the grants, personal investments and impact investment support in a blended financing structure.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Accounting Standards and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006, as amended ("Accounting Standards") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at 31st March 2022, and of its excess of income over expenditure and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under section 143(10) of the Act (SAs). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Accounting Standards and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

• Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We cons der quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To The Members of Transforming Rural India Foundation Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Transforming Rural India Foundation ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2023, and the Statement of Income and Expenditure, the Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2021, as amended ("Accounting Standards") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2023, and its excess of income over expenditure, its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the financial statements.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

- The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Directors' report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.
- Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.
- In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.
- If, based on the work we have performed on the other information that we obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Accounting Standards and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Company's Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities or business activities included in the financial statements of which we are the independent auditors.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

- 1. As required by Section 143(3) of the Act, based on our audit, referred to in the Other Matters section above we report, to the extent applicable that:
 - a) We have sought and obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of our audit.

In our opinion, proper books of account as required by law have been kept by the Company so far as it appears from our examination of those books.

b) The Balance Sheet, the Statement of Income and Expenditure, the Statement of Cash Flows dealt with by this Report are in agreement with the relevant books of account.

In our opinion, the aforesaid financial statements comply with the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act.
