

WE'RE HIRING!

Practitioner [Public Policy in Action (PPiA)] at selected district headquarters across Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh & Uttar Pradesh

Ministry of Rural Development (GoI) runs the largest global program focus on rural women with an aim of removing multi-dimensional poverty to support over 8.5 Cr poor women and their households. Recently the GoI has embarked on an ambitious program to strengthen community institutions, and support 2.5 crore women to become “Lakshpati Mahila”. The program is being spearheaded by the initiative “Deendayal Antyodaya Yozna- National Rural Livelihoods Mission (DAY-NRLM)”, in close convergence with several other government departments.

Transforming Rural India Foundation (TRI), under a formal arrangement with the Rural Development Department of Govt of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh plans to take up intensive prototype development in selected districts in the State. The efforts under this initiative will contextualise and create local livelihood solutions, in addition to demonstrating implementation protocols for decentralized planning for livelihood promotion, govt. scheme convergence for livelihood asset creation, capacity enhancement around production skills, and most importantly strengthening the Cluster Level Federations (CLFs) for ensuring member participation and program implementation oversight.

TRI is looking for seasoned highly motivated professionals to work closely with the district administration with a passion for strengthening women's collective agency through community institutions and providing an opportunity for them to transform their lives in their villages.

WHAT IS THE OPPORTUNITY?

- Anchor end-to-end roll out of programme strategy and implementation with scale readiness through data-driven insights.
- Devise strategies and facilitate convergence with flagship schemes.
- Facilitate functional spaces for rural women and their collectives to take leadership roles.
- Identify opportunities for livelihood promotion that enhances asset ownership of poor rural women.

WHO DO WE LOOK FOR?

- At least a bachelor's degree in Agriculture, Rural Development, Forest Management or related domains.
- 7-8 years of experience working with large public programmes
- High managerial orientation with the ability to influence in a multi stakeholder environment particularly with the government.
- Keen interest to anchor decentralised planning processes like GPDP with a focus towards creation of individual assets, social security and poverty alleviation.
- Experience in developing and implementing capacity building programs for farm and non-farm activities.
- Fluency in Hindi and English
- Willingness to stay and travel in rural areas.

Click here to apply now:

<https://www.trif.in/careers/>

TRI especially encourages women including those who may have taken a break for life-cycle needs to apply for this position. Women with similar experience and skill sets will be given a preference. Selection decisions will be done on a rolling basis. Candidates are encouraged to apply at the earliest.

WE'RE HIRING!

Practitioner [Community Action Lab (CAL)] at selected block headquarters across Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh

Ministry of Rural Development (GoI) runs the largest global program focus on rural women with an aim of removing multi-dimensional poverty to support over 8.5 Cr poor women and their households. Recently the GoI has embarked on an ambitious program to strengthen community institutions, and support 2.5 crore women to become “Lakhpati Mahila”. The program is being spearheaded by the initiative “Deendayal Antyodaya Yozna- National Rural Livelihoods Mission (DAY-NRLM)”, in close convergence with several other government departments.

Transforming Rural India Foundation (TRI), under a formal arrangement with the Rural Development Department of Govt of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh, plans to take up intensive prototype development in selected districts in the State. The efforts under this initiative will contextualise and create local livelihood solutions, in addition to demonstrating implementation protocols for decentralized planning for livelihood promotion, govt. scheme convergence for livelihood asset creation, capacity enhancement around production skills, and most importantly strengthening the Cluster Level Federations (CLFs) for ensuring member participation and program implementation oversight.

TRI is looking for seasoned highly motivated professionals to work closely with community institutions to impact the lives of poor rural women through a multidimensional lens and provide them an opportunity assert their voice through local governance.

WHAT IS THE OPPORTUNITY?

- Lead community-led transformative action along with CLFs, Panchayat & block administration
- Champion for diversity and inclusion initiatives with structured guidance from TRIF.
- Foster convergence within block administration to strengthen implementation of large public programs.
- Introduce and nurture innovative technology-based solutions to strengthen local governance.

WHO DO WE LOOK FOR?

- At least a bachelor's degree Gender studies, Agriculture, Rural Development or in related domains.
- At least 5-6 years of experience working on livelihoods with community collectives.
- High managerial orientation with the ability to influence in a multi-stakeholder environment particularly with the government.
- Direct experience of promoting and working with SHGs/CIGs and their federations, producer groups and collectives for value chain development.
- Experience in developing and implementing capacity building programs for farm and non-farm activities.
- Fluency in Hindi and English
- Willingness to stay and travel in rural areas/

Click here to apply now:

<https://www.trif.in/careers/>

TRI especially encourages women including those who may have taken a break for life-cycle needs to apply for this position. The program being implemented is with rural women, so women candidates are most preferred for this JD. Selection decisions will be done on a rolling basis. Candidates are encouraged to apply at the earliest.

WE'RE HIRING!

Associate Practitioners [Community Action Lab (CAL)]
at selected block headquarters across Chhattisgarh,
Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh

Ministry of Rural Development (Gol) runs the largest global program focus on rural women with an aim of removing multi-dimensional poverty to support over 8.5 Cr poor women and their households. Recently the Gol has embarked on an ambitious program to strengthen community institutions, and support 2.5 crore women to become “Lakhpati Mahila”. The program is being spearheaded by the initiative “Deendayal Antyodaya Yozna- National Rural Livelihoods Mission (DAY-NRLM)”, in close convergence with several other government departments.

Transforming Rural India Foundation (TRI), under a formal arrangement with the Rural Development Department of Govt of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh plans to take up intensive prototype development in selected blocks in the State. The efforts under this initiative will contextualise and create local livelihood solutions, in addition to demonstrating implementation protocols for decentralized planning for livelihood promotion, govt. scheme convergence for livelihood asset creation, capacity enhancement around production skills, and most importantly strengthening the Cluster Level Federations (CLFs) for ensuring member participation and program implementation oversight. These pilots will inform policies relative to women's economic empowerment at the state & national levels.

TRI is looking for seasoned highly motivated professionals to work closely with community institutions to impact the lives of poor rural women through a multidimensional lens and provide them an opportunity assert their voice through local governance.

WHAT IS THE OPPORTUNITY?

- Formulate, activate and mentor CLFs and community cadre to strengthen their leadership to nurture community-led transformative change.
- Collaborate with and build capacities of elected representatives from Gram Panchayats to enhance asset ownership of poor rural women.
- Nurture innovation in livelihoods and entrepreneurship through PRI-CBO linkages.

WHO DO WE LOOK FOR?

- At least a bachelor’s degree in social sciences, enterprise management, business management, commerce, engineering, or any other closely related field. A Master's degree in Social Sciences, Agriculture, Rural Development, Gender Studies, or related domains will be preferred but not mandatory.
- At least 2-3 years of experience working at the grassroots.
- Direct experience in promoting or working with SHGs/CIGs and their federations, producer groups, and collectives for value chain development, or similar grassroots groups
- Experience in developing and implementing capacity-building programs for rural communities.
- Fluency in Hindi and English.
- Willingness to stay and travel in rural areas.

Click here to apply now:
<https://www.trif.in/careers/>

TRI especially encourages women including those who may have taken a break for life-cycle needs to apply for this position. Selection decisions will be done on a rolling basis. Candidates are encouraged to apply at the earliest.