QUARTERLY tribune

Hello TRI friends and supporters,

As we enter the year's final quarter, we're reminded of the resilience that defines our people, communities and systems. From health awareness to climate action, natural farming to rural entrepreneurship, inspiring stories continue to shine across villages. At TRI we're proud to stand with them, amplifying their voices. Against this backdrop, we proudly hosted the 5th Edition of the India Rural Colloquy between 1st - 8th August, where diverse voices came together to reimagine a rural renaissance. We look forward to forging new collaborations, deepening our grassroots impact and shaping policy dialogues that matter.

5th India Rural Colloquy paves way for inclusive growth

The Colloquy brought together diverse voices from government, academia, civil society, and grassroots leadership.

Strengthening rural governance through knowledge resources

During the India Rural Colloquy in Bhopal, Transform Rural India (TRI) and the Directorate of Panchayat Raj,
